*UBSCRIPTIONS TO THE EVENING WORLD PER MONTH

Vol. 34......No. 11,871

Entered at the Post-Office at New York as secondclass matter.

M'KANE'S SENTENCE.

John Y. McKane has been sentenced to connection with the elections at Graves-

The conviction and sentence of this man are matters big with importance not only to the people of his immediate whole country. A contemporary has already been quoted by "The Evening World" to the effect that "the McKane case is a National text."

The power of the popular will, of the press and of the courts to work unitedly and accomplish a great victory for bal lot-box purity has been demonstrated political boss has been overthrown in the midst of his evil machinations. Let not the encouraging effect of this precedent be lost wherever fraud and ringsters sermon. It seems to us that the rooste rule.

A PUBLIC INFAMY.

The Legislature has been petitioned to make the padrone system illegal in this State and to declare it a felony to engage in it. The prayer of the petition

Negro glavery has been happily abol ished forever. White slavery, under any is about to roll itself up into a snore. importation of foreign contract labor into the United States is prohibited. labor on our own soll ought to be for

If a thousand Italian laborers were hired by a padrone in Italy to come to this country and work in a public department at a stipulated rate of wages, old be sent back to their homes. Why should a padrone be allowed to gather the same Italian laborers up as soon as they arrive in New York and make the same contract with them ?

Then, again, by what right does th city pay one dollar and a half a day for men who really work for seventy-five cents or a dollar a day, the padrone getting the rest of the money? Is no men cetually work for and receive fraud and a robbery of the people?

All this leaves out of view the injus tice and cruelty to the laborer, who is ound down in poverty and suffering ground down in poverty while an idle, greedy speculator grows rich on his toil.

Out upon the toleration of such a sys any city official. It is a public man in a Fifth avenue stage, at the point ple. of a revolver, is a novelty in New York, and will set people thinking.

When Mrs. Theodore L. Pomeroy, of

Pittsfield, found herself in one of these vehicles at 11 o'clock in the morning, near Seventeenth street, with the only other passenger, a young man, holding a revolher head and demanding her money, it is no wonder that she lost her e of mind and gave up her pocketbook and its contents at once. Neither is ure? it surprising that the shock, after the that she scarcely knows how she left the stage and got to the Fifth Avenue where she had friends, and telephoned to her husband.

The crime is a startling one, and yet, on reflection, it is not surprising. There nbering vehicles have really no protection against such outrageous acts. are difficult to stop, and the driver has no knowledge of what is going on in-A bold thief might rob the most self-possessed woman, and escape before an alarm could be given

Mr Pomeroy suggests the only sensible remedy for the evil. The stanes, which he correctly says are abominable concerns, anyway, ought to be com-pelled to carry conductors. Until they lans, carrying brooms and shovels, who to so ladies without a companion should : avoid them and ride in the street cars, city's extra work. It is presumed that which run conveniently parallel with the they were not vouched for by the proper stages, on Broadway, Madison avenue padrore. and Sixth avenue.

A PLAIN DUTY.

The first and most important duty is to send to the Senate another nomination of a man to fill the vacancy in the Supreme Court.

The two names already sent in brought on bitter contests between the President and the New York Senators. The President was defeated and both nominations were rejected by decisive votes. Demoeratic as well as Republican.

It is idle now to argue the point as to the responsibility for the quarrel. It ! shough that a political or factional fight proves utterly inefficient. nation is a public scandal and disgrace: It should end here and now

The President, both from the obligations of his official position and in vindication of the reputation he has gained is bound now to name for the Supreme Court vacancy a distinguished jurist and not a political partisan. It is his duty to make a nomination to which no obmellate confir ation cannot be withheld. It is in his power to do so. The natbility is now with him alone.

President Cleveland will be unjust to bimself and unjust to his friends if he listens to bail advice in this matter and falls to perform his plain duty.

There shall be no paid secretaries. paid agents, no clerks, nor collect tors, nor distributors, at salaries which so often divert a large percentage of such funds from the pockets of the poor. The money is to be used for "relief," real and substantial. The Com-mittee will see after its distribution, so that it will be certain to reach deserving New Yorkers, especially families whose women and children are the help I BR Y EAR...... $3.00 less sufferers through the inability of those who are their natural supporters to obtain employment and earn a living for them

The Committee on the distribution of funds comprises some of the most vigorous, practical, earnest men in the city They have leisure, capacity, integrity and broad humanity and it is certain that no money raised for charity could six years' imprisonment for the offenses be expended with greater care, prudence of which he has been proven guilty in and judgment than will mark the distribution of the Mayor's Fund.

ROOSTERS IN RELIGION.

An original preacher of this city use a live rooster in his sermon yesterday community but to the people of the by the nose and leads them. The rooster was placed on a horizontalized blackboard, and a chalk-line drawn straightaway from his bill. He was motionless for a minute, and then threw back his created head and crowed. As an objective sermon, with barnyard trimmings, it was a magnificent success. The entire congregation enjoyed it hugely, and the children crowed as loudly as the rooster.

This same preacher has used snakes A strongly intrenched and unscrupulous and other things in his sermons. The ophidian ingredients were real and not imaginary, and the sideshow effects have imaginary, and the sideshow effects have been introduced for the purpose of simplifying the moral that went with every sermon. It seems to us that the rooster in church was about the best idea that the preacher could have hit upon. If one could siways be secured that had "lungs that crow like chanticleer," other preachers might have them in seried at intervals in the service to awaken those members of the congregation whose chins are fallen or heads bent back, and whose regular breathing is about to roll itself up into a snore.

It is proposed to ask the Legislature to give the people of this city a chance to give the people of this city a chance to vote on the question of whether they want saloon doors open under certain restrictions between certain near to give the people of this city a chance to vote on the question of whether they want saloon doors open under certain restrictions between certain hours on Sunday. There is every reason why this popular vote should be allowed. And there is more than a probability that the set decision will be overwhelmingly in favor of the open doors. ments are a bluff, and that no skilled weavers can be found who will take their places.

"As for unskilled men." said one of the strikers. "There is no danger that any employer will risk his looms and allk to any of these. The least oversight or awkwardness in these expensive machines would destroy them, and throw the slik stretched upon them into an inextricable tangle, involving the lass of perhaps $500 for each loom."

E. J. Steinhart, of West Fiftieth street, said this morning that he expected several men who had applied in answer to his advertisement to go to work to-morrow. He said that he had offered immediately after the strike began two weavers, named Hubbard and Neuber, regular wages of $5.50 a day, instead of paying for piece work. These men, he said, refused to accept it on the ground that even at the present scale of wages they could easily carn $4 a day.

A. & S. filumenthal and Smith & Kaufman have published a statement that they have never been paying lestions $1 a day, and have for the most part been paying as high as $5 a day. Smith & Kaufman showed their books to prove that during the week preceding the strike they had been paying from $20 to $25 per week.

The manufacturers say that there are $14,000 weavers in the country, and that most of them, if they could get to this city, would be willing to earn what the strikers had seen fit to refuse.

Some people have queer ideas about wearing mourning. When crape is worn there should not be a suspicion of any trimming about the dress, except folds cut jet is atroclous, and even dull jet is with the shelf crease yet in it, stuck to her diamonds, wearing two-carat stones in her ears, and five of the same kind at her throat. Through the folds of her enveloping veil they shone like glow worms. Grief like that is a shricking

Use for Old Ribbons.

Most every woman has in her scrap bag yards and yards of soiled light ribbons that she has no idea what to do with. Now is the time to use them. One of the very prettlest effects in dress trimmings is made by putting rows of bright colored ribbons on dress skirts and bodices, and overlaying them with black or white lace insertion.
